VIII. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

20. Financial risk management policies

The Bank's operations are exposed to various types of financial risks, including the following key risks: credit risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, and market risk. The Bank's Board of Directors issues risk policies and defines the Bank's risk appetite to ensure that risks are identified, measured, and controlled in accordance with the Bank's financial capacity, development orientation, and regulations of the SBV.

The Bank applies the three lines of defense model: business units are responsible for controlling the risks arising from their operations; the Risk Management Division develops policies and monitors compliance; and the Internal Audit function provides independent assessment.

The Risk Management Committee, under the Board of Directors, advises the Board on the issuance and adjustment of risk management policies and procedures, as well as on the analysis and early warning of potential threats to operational safety. The Committee also evaluates the effectiveness of risk management and proposes appropriate measures and solutions for risk mitigation.

Credit risk is managed through the establishment, analysis, and monitoring of the credit portfolio, credit limits, and provisioning in accordance with regulations. Liquidity risk is monitored through regulatory liquidity safety ratios and periodic liquidity stress testing. Interest rate risk in the banking book is measured and monitored by assessing interest rate repricing gaps between assets and liabilities and analyzing the sensitivity of net interest income. Market risk is managed through the establishment and daily monitoring of position and loss limits for the trading book.

21. Market risk

21.1. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect the fair values of financial instruments. The Bank are exposed to interest rate risk as a result of mismatches of maturity dates or dates of interest rate re-pricing in respect of assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet instruments over a certain period.

Analysis of assets and liabilities based on interest rate re-pricing date

The real interest rate re-pricing term is the remaining period from the date of preparation of the financial statements to the most recent interest re-pricing period or the maturity date of the items on the separate statement of financial position whichever is earlier.

The following assumptions and conditions have been adopted in the analysis of interest rate re-pricing terms of the assets and liabilities of the Bank:

- ▶ Cash, long-term investments, derivatives and other financial assets, other assets (including fixed assets, receivables and other assets) and other payables are classified as non-interest-bearing items.
- ▶ Balances with the SBV are considered as current and the re-pricing term is therefore considered within one (1) month.
- ▶ The re-pricing period of interest rate of investment securities are determined based on the maturity date of securities at date of the separate financial statements.
- ▶ The re-pricing term of borrowings from Government and the SBV, due from and loans to other credit institutions, loans to customers, receivables from sale of debts, due to and borrowings from other credit institutions, due to customers and valuable papers issued is determined as follows:
 - Items which bear fixed interest rate for the entire contractual term: The re-pricing term is determined based on the remaining contractual term from the separate statement of financial position date.
 - Items which bear floating interest rate: The re-pricing term is determined based on the nearest interest re-pricing date from the separate statement of financial position date.
