JUNE 2025

Report on the production and business activities in 2024 and the Activity Plan for 2025

Dear Annual General Meeting of Shareholders 2025, the Board of General Directors of Trung An Hi-Tech Farming Joint Stock Company respectfully presents to the General Meeting of Shareholders for approval the Company's 2024 production and business results as follows:

I. REPORT ON 2024 PRODUCTION AND BUSINESS RESULTS

1. General situation of the rice industry in 2024

❖ Global rice industry situation in 2024

In 2024, the global rice market witnessed significant fluctuations due to factors such as climate change, trade policies, and increasing consumption demand. The prolonged El Nino phenomenon caused droughts and floods in many major production areas like Thailand, India, and Indonesia, reducing yields in some countries. Notably, India – the world's largest rice exporter – continued to maintain restrictions on white rice and broken rice exports to ensure domestic food security, tightening global commercial supply. According to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), global rice production for the 2023-2024 crop year reached approximately 522.65 million tonnes, lower than the forecast of 532.9 million tonnes for the 2024-2025 crop year (a decrease of 813,000 tonnes compared to the previous forecast but still an increase of 10.25 million tonnes compared to the previous crop year). Total supply (including beginning stocks and production) for the 2024-2025 crop year reached a record high of 712.4 million tonnes, an increase of 9.1 million tonnes compared to the previous crop year. Global consumption is projected to reach 530.2 million tonnes, an increase of 6.5 million tonnes, resulting in a supply-demand surplus of approximately 2.7 million tonnes, reversing the previous deficit.

World Rice Supply and Demand from Crop Year 2020–2021 to 2024-2025

Unit: Million tonnes

Crop Year	Output	Consumption	Inventory	Trade
2020 – 2021	509.2	503.5	187.3	52.2
2021 – 2022	513.1	518.8	183.2	56.1
2022 – 2023	515.8	520.3	179.2	53.3
2023 – 2024	522.6	524.0	179.0	59.2
2024 – 2025 (estimated)	532.9	530.0	182.0	58.1

Source: USDA

Global rice consumption demand remained high, especially in Asia and Africa. Regarding trade, India – the world's largest rice exporter – recorded a decrease in exports in 2023 (17.3 million tonnes), but is projected to recover strongly to 22 million tonnes in 2025 thanks to the lifting of export restrictions from Q4/2024. This caused world rice prices to drop sharply from the beginning of Q4, after maintaining high levels in the first 9 months of the year due to large import demand from Asia and Africa, along with India's previous export ban. The price of 5% broken rice from Thailand increased by 24.5 USD/tonne, Indian rice increased by 70 USD/tonne, while Vietnamese rice increased by 11.2 USD/tonne compared to 2023, but the downward price trend at the end of the year affected exporters.

Thailand achieved record exports of 10 million tonnes in 2024, the highest in 6 years, thanks to demand from Indonesia (1.12 million tonnes), Iraq (950,000 tonnes), and the Philippines (490,000 tonnes). Cambodia exported 651,522 tonnes, mainly fragrant rice (76.15%), while Pakistan saw strong growth with 2.37 million tonnes in the first 5 months of the 2024-2025 fiscal year, targeting 5 billion USD.

❖ Situation of the Rice Industry in Vietnam in 2024

In 2024, Vietnam's rice industry marked a year of outstanding success, especially in the export sector, setting a new record with exports reaching 9.18 Million tonnes, valued at USD 5.75 billion, an increase of 12.9% in volume and 23% in value compared to 2023. The average export price reached USD 627/ton (up 16.7% compared to 2023), surpassing the USD 600/ton threshold – a significant milestone, reflecting the shift towards high-quality rice varieties such as fragrant rice and premium rice. This achievement strengthens Vietnam's position among the top 3 leading rice exporting countries in the world, after India and Thailand.

This success stems from several factors. Firstly, Vietnam effectively capitalized on opportunities arising from the global supply shortage, especially when India restricted exports. Secondly, the government's flexible management policies, combined with coordination among ministries, sectors, and businesses, helped balance exports and domestic consumption while stabilizing domestic rice prices. Thirdly, participation in free trade agreements (FTAs) such as EVFTA and CPTPP expanded export markets, enhancing the value of Vietnamese rice. ST25 rice continues to affirm its brand by being favored in the international market, contributing to elevating the position of Vietnam's rice industry.

However, Vietnam's rice industry also faces several challenges. Climate change, drought, and saltwater intrusion in the Mekong Delta – the country's largest rice bowl – affect productivity and cultivated area. High production costs due to inadequately controlled input material prices, coupled with a low mechanization rate and significant post-harvest losses, reduce competitiveness. Furthermore, the export market still heavily relies on traditional countries like the Philippines, China, and Indonesia, while diversification into new markets remains limited.

Overall, the global rice industry in 2024 reflects a multifaceted picture: supply was tightened by climate and policy factors, but high demand created opportunities for exporting countries like Vietnam to shine. Vietnam not only achieved export records but also demonstrated a strong transformation in enhancing rice quality and value, gradually building a sustainable brand in the international market. However, to maintain growth momentum and long-term development, Vietnam needs to continue investing in technology, high-quality rice varieties, mechanization, and market diversification, while effectively responding to challenges from climate change and global fluctuations. This is a crucial time for Vietnam's rice industry to affirm its role not only in national food security but also on the world food map.

In 2024, Trung An Hi-Tech Farming Joint Stock Company recorded net revenue of VND 4,235,656 million, equivalent to 118.02% of the annual plan, continuing to maintain growth momentum compared to previous years. This result reflects the Company's ability to maintain market share and promote exports amidst unfavorable fluctuations in the international rice market.

However, the after-tax profit result showed the Company recorded a loss of (58,147) million VND. The main reasons were: (1) World rice prices reversed sharply from the beginning of 2024, causing selling prices to decrease significantly, while input costs such as freight charges to Europe increased sharply. The Company also gradually shifted towards signing contracts with customers and partners in Asia, although the European market itself was also heavily affected. (2) The gross profit margin narrowed significantly, as Trung An proactively maintained stable selling prices for strategic customers to secure its market position, despite pressure from output price fluctuations. (3) Financial costs continued to be a bottleneck, with high borrowing interest rates and increasing pressure to repay short-term interest, reducing pre-tax profit.

Thus, it can be seen that 2024 was a year of revenue growth but ineffective in terms of profit. Maintaining a stable selling price policy and expanding export markets is a commendable effort by the Board of Management, but this needs to go hand in hand with a strategy to control financial costs and optimize operating costs to avoid falling into a state of 'growth without profit' in the following years.

With this strategy, the Company is confident in building a dynamic, creative, and long-term committed workforce, contributing to the Company's sustainable development goals.

❖ Financial strategy

With a strategic vision, the Company prioritizes the development of long-term credit products to ensure stable capital sources, minimize interest expense pressure, and manage debt repayment upon maturity. At the same time, the Company actively participates in agricultural support programs implemented by the Government.
