5. The General Meeting proceeds to elect additional members to the Supervisory Board for the remaining period of the 2022-2027 term.

6. Discussion, comments from the Meeting, and responses from the Presidium

Opinions from shareholder code 477 – Geleximco Group:

a. Evaluating the current situation and the need for innovation

The Corporation's role is gradually fading and lacking dynamism compared to the past amid the strong development of major global corporations. Currently, activities are merely focused on manufacturing and outsourcing, without any products or specialized fields with a clear orientation.

b. Proposing solutions

For sustainable development, it is suggested that the Board of Directors and the Board of Management focus on the following solutions:

- International Cooperation and Technology: Proactively coordinate and cooperate in investments with foreign organizations to access high-tech fields.

- The Corporation should enhance coordination with its subsidiaries to consolidate specialized production and business. In addition, it is necessary to supplement commercial business lines to promote cooperation and sales in the domestic market.

- Enhancing bidding: The Corporation needs to maximize its production capacity to participate in large projects, acting as subcontractors for reputable domestic organizations.

- Restoring and investing heavily in areas of strength where the Corporation has long-standing foundations (e-commerce platform). Focused investment and collaboration with domestic and foreign partners are required to re-exploit this immense potential.

- Restructuring must be carried out decisively and purposefully:

+ Focus resources on subsidiaries where the Corporation is holding over 50% of the charter capital.

+ For entities where the ownership ratio is under 50%, it is necessary to carefully consider efficiency to plan for appropriate investment, avoiding scattered investments that cause resource waste. The goal is to invest centrally and strategically in areas that are the Corporation's strengths.
