PART III. DISCUSSION CONTENTS

1. Question from shareholder Nguyen Van Huy – Code VET.000208.

Question 1: Regarding cost management and waste prevention. In the context of the State promoting the practice of saving and preventing waste, what solutions has the Company implemented and will implement to optimize production costs, management costs, and improve operational efficiency, thereby increasing profits for shareholders?

Answer: The company recognizes that cost savings, waste prevention, and improved management efficiency are not only requirements of the State but also the responsibility of the company's leadership, because every reasonable cost reduction contributes to increased profits and enterprise value.

In the past and in the coming years, the company has been implementing several groups of solutions as follows:

1. Optimizing production costs
 - Reviewing material consumption standards and minimizing losses during production.
 - Improving the efficiency of machinery, equipment, and production lines.
 - Saving electricity, water, and other energy costs.

- Proactively seeking and diversifying raw material sources with competitive prices while ensuring quality.

- Promoting automation and technology application to improve labor productivity.

2. Strictly control business management costs:

- Continue to review and streamline work processes, reducing unnecessary intermediate steps.

- Promote digital transformation in management and operations, managing inventory and accounts receivable more effectively.

- Control costs for purchasing assets and services. Review and cut unnecessary expenses.

Question 2: In the context of the ongoing and complex African swine fever outbreak in many localities, while the actual vaccination rate remains quite low compared to the total pig population and the number of pig farming households nationwide, could the management please provide information on the company's African swine fever vaccine sales results over the past year, the difficulties in expanding the market, and solutions to increase the vaccination rate in the future?

Answer: Since the company's African Swine Fever vaccine received its marketing authorization in June 2022, cumulative revenue has reached nearly 60 billion VND. This is a remarkable achievement for a new vaccine product, contributing to supporting livestock farmers in proactively preventing disease outbreaks and minimizing losses for the pig farming industry.

However, expanding the market for African Swine Fever vaccines still faces many challenges. On the one hand, the actual vaccination rate remains low compared to the total pig population nationwide due to the cautious attitude of some farmers. On the other hand, the disease situation is always fluctuating, and the emergence of new variants places increasingly high demands on the protective efficacy of vaccines.

In the face of these challenges, the company is continuing to collaborate with scientists and research partners both domestically and internationally to exchange information, conduct research, improve and refine its products in order to enhance protection effectiveness and better respond to the evolving epidemiological situation.

In addition, the company will continue to strengthen field trials, evaluate the effectiveness of use at farms, promote scientific communication, and coordinate with specialized agencies and local veterinary systems to raise awareness among livestock farmers about the role of vaccines in disease control.

We believe that as product quality continues to improve, practical effectiveness is confirmed, and farmers' awareness increases, the rate of African Swine Fever vaccine use will gradually increase, thereby making a positive contribution to the Company's business performance in the future.

2. Questions from shareholder Ma Thi Duyen – Stock Code VET.000114.

Question 1: Regarding investment in research and development: What is the company's strategy for investing in research on vaccines, high-tech veterinary drugs, and new products to enhance competitiveness, increase market share, and create sustainable growth momentum in the future?

Answer: Research and development (R&D) has always been identified by the Company as one of its key strategic pillars, forming the foundation for sustainable development and enhancing long-term competitiveness.

Besides the production and sale of vaccines, veterinary medicines, and aquatic products, the Company also places special emphasis on scientific research. This is not only a core function but also a factor that helps the Company affirm its brand reputation, master technology, and enhance the position of domestically researched and produced products in the market.

Currently, the company has a team of over 30 highly specialized researchers working at its Research Center, which is relatively well-equipped with modern facilities, equipment, and human resources. Over the years, the company has consistently allocated significant resources to research and development of high-tech vaccines, veterinary drugs, and new products to meet the increasingly diverse needs of the market.

In the past year alone, the company has researched, developed, and launched many new products that have gained the trust and acceptance of livestock farmers. These include multivalent vaccines and products utilizing advanced technology, contributing to improved disease prevention and treatment, reduced farming costs, and increased economic efficiency for customers. These are very encouraging results, demonstrating the research capabilities and innovative spirit of the company's scientific staff.

In the coming period, the company will continue to focus on investing in R&D activities aimed at mastering technology and developing products with high scientific and technical applications. The goal is to create differentiated products with high added value, contributing to expanding market share, improving business efficiency, and creating sustainable growth momentum for the company in the coming years.

Question 2: Regarding expanding export markets. Currently, the company's products have been exported to several foreign markets. Can the management share the direction for expanding export markets in the coming period and the export revenue targets for the following years?

Answer: Exporting is one of the key directions for increasing revenue and has been presented in the Board of Directors' Report.

Previously, Myanmar was a traditional export market with fairly good revenue. However, due to prolonged internal instability in that country, business operations have been significantly affected, reducing the Company's export revenue in recent years.

In the coming period, in addition to maintaining and developing existing markets such as Cambodia, the Middle East, and several other countries, the Company will continue to strengthen product registration, seek partners, and expand into new potential markets. We expect export activities to gradually grow, contributing positively to revenue and the sustainable development of the Company in the coming years.

3. Question from shareholder Nguyen Tuan Tuan – Code VET.000521.

Question: I heard reports outlining many solutions to overcome difficulties. However, in reality, business results and profits have been declining for many consecutive years; even the 2026 plan projects a further decrease in revenue and profit compared to 2025 results, which completely contradicts the government's determination to achieve double-digit growth, specifically over 10%.

Answer: We fully agree with the shareholders' opinion when looking at the company's business results and profits in recent years, as well as the cautious plan for 2026.

However, business production plans must be based on actual conditions and feasibility. Currently, the domestic and global economic situation remains challenging, the livestock market is recovering slowly, purchasing power has not truly improved, while input costs and competitive pressure remain high. Furthermore, the incident in 2024 significantly impacted the company's production, business operations, and brand reputation. Restoring the market, customers, and business results will take time and cannot be achieved overnight.

For the 2026 plan, the Company has chosen a cautious approach, setting targets based on an objective assessment of market factors and existing challenges. The profit target, in particular, is significantly impacted by interest expenses, leading to higher financial costs during this period.

However, the plan presented to the General Meeting is a realistic and feasible goal. The Board of Directors did not set low targets for easy completion, but rather aimed to build a plan that is close to reality, creating a foundation for sustainable recovery. With the solutions already implemented and the determination of the Board of Directors and all employees, we will make every effort to complete and strive to exceed the targets set by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

4. Question from shareholder Le Van Lanh – Stock code VET.000239.

Question:* The share price (VET) has been low for the past three years, fluctuating between VND 15,000 and VND 16,000. Therefore, could the General Director please advise on what will be done in 2026 and 2027 to bring the share price (VET) back up?

Answer: Stock prices on the stock market are determined by many factors, not only depending on the company's performance but also influenced by investor sentiment, market trends, trading liquidity, and expectations of future growth.

The company understands shareholders' desire for the VET stock price to increase in proportion to Navetco's potential. VET shares are currently trading on UPCoM with relatively low liquidity, so they do not fully reflect the company's true value. Currently, the company is focusing on improving production and business efficiency, increasing profits, ensuring information transparency, and building a long-term development strategy. As the company's foundation improves, we believe that the stock value will be recognized appropriately by the market in the near future.

REPORT ON THE ACTIVITIES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS IN 2025 AND THE 2026 OPERATION PLAN

To: General Meeting of Shareholders
Navetco National Veterinary Joint Stock Company

Pursuant to the Charter of organization and operation of Navetco National Veterinary Joint Stock Company and relevant legal regulations. The Board of Directors (BOD) of Navetco National Veterinary Joint Stock Company would like to respectfully report to the General Meeting of Shareholders (GMS) on the results of the BOD's activities in 2025 and the BOD's operational orientation in 2026 as follows:

I. COMPANY'S PERFORMANCE RESULTS IN 2025

In 2025, the global and domestic economies continued to face numerous difficulties and challenges: inflation remained high, input material costs increased, and supply chains were unstable; coupled with global political fluctuations directly affecting trade and production. This was a very difficult year for the economy in general and the Vietnamese veterinary industry in particular. The current global situation, due to the global economic recession and the ongoing conflict in Russia and Ukraine, and conflicts between various parties around the world (recently in the Middle East), increased shipping costs, affecting fuel prices and freight costs, leading to higher raw material prices for production... posing difficulties for the company's production and business plans. During this challenging period, the livestock and veterinary industry in general, and Navetco Company in particular, were not immune to these impacts. For the livestock and veterinary sector, disease outbreaks in livestock and poultry still pose a potential risk. Disease outbreaks in livestock and poultry have occurred in some localities and have been controlled, but the risk of resurgence remains; market consumption is recovering slowly, and competition in the industry is increasingly fierce...

In the context of a challenging economy, the Company has proactively implemented a comprehensive set of solutions to manage operations, control costs, preserve state capital, and improve investment efficiency. The results are as follows:

Unit: billion VND

No.	Target	Plan for 2025	Result of 2025	R/P (%)
1	Total Revenue	350	324,3	92,66%
2	Profit before tax	18	18,2	101,11%

- Although revenue only reached 92.66% of the plan, profit reached 101.11% of the plan due to the company's proactive cost reduction and the implementation of flexible sales policies and procedures that were appropriate to the company's actual situation.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL DIRECTOR
BUSINESS PRODUCTION PERFORMANCE RESULTS IN 2025
AND BUSINESS PRODUCTION PLAN FOR 2026
AT THE 2026 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

Dear Esteemed Shareholders,

In accordance with the Board of Directors' Resolution and with the unity, effort, and determination of all employees to overcome difficulties, we aim to fulfill the tasks set for 2025.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Navetco National Veterinary Joint Stock Company, I would like to present the report to the 2026 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders on the business performance in 2025 and the business plan and solutions for the 2026 plan, with the following contents:

PART I. SUMMARY OF PRODUCTION AND BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN 2025

1. General Situation Assessment

In 2025, the socio-economic situation both domestically and globally continued to face many difficulties and complex fluctuations, significantly impacting the business environment for enterprises. The recovery of the global economy remained slow, raw material and transportation costs were still high, while climate change and extreme weather events continued to affect agricultural and livestock production. In this context, the veterinary industry market also faced many difficulties; the investment sentiment of livestock farmers remained cautious, the scale of livestock production and the rate of herd replenishment had not yet recovered significantly, and product consumption in the market remained slow. These factors created considerable pressure on the production and business activities of enterprises in the industry.

2. Business Performance Results for 2025

Under the close guidance of the Board of Directors and the General Management Board, and with the efforts of all staff and employees, the Company proactively implemented many solutions to overcome difficulties and maintain stable production and business operations. As a result, the Company's performance in the past year basically met the production and business plan targets as approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders. Specifically as follows:

Unit: billion VND

No.	Target	Plan for 2025	Result of 2025	R/P (%)
1	Total revenue	350	324,3	92,66
2	Total accounting profit before tax	18	18,2	101,11

(According to audited financial report 2025)

3. Results of Operational Performance in 2025

Faced with market difficulties and challenges, the Board of Directors proactively issued key operational policies and simultaneously implemented many solutions in research, production, and business activities to improve operational efficiency, strengthen competitiveness, and ensure the stability and development of the Company.

3.1. Management, Operation, and Human Resources Organization

The company continues to implement management and operation in a specialized manner, with clear assignment of tasks in the research, production, and business areas, ensuring the correct implementation of policies approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders and in line with the actual developments of the market. The management structure is strengthened through rational assignment and delegation of authority; reviewing and improving operational processes and regulations to enhance internal control and optimize resource utilization.

Over the past year, the company has reviewed, reorganized, and streamlined its human resources by assigning jobs that match the capabilities and expertise of each position, thereby maximizing human resource efficiency, improving operational efficiency, and contributing to reducing management costs. Recruitment is strictly controlled, limiting new hires, and only carrying out recruitment in truly necessary cases.

Furthermore, the company focuses on human resource development, especially the leadership and management team, with a focus on rejuvenating the workforce, enhancing professional skills, and fostering innovative thinking to meet the demands of the new development phase. Simultaneously, the company is liquidating assets that have reached the end of their depreciation period or are no longer being used effectively to increase financial flexibility and improve operational efficiency.

3.2. Research and Development Activities

- In 2025, the Company will continue to strengthen its research and development activities, focusing on perfecting and testing important vaccines for livestock diseases, while also conducting research on multivalent vaccines to improve disease prevention effectiveness.

- In addition, the Company will continue to research and develop veterinary and aquatic pharmaceutical products; improve some existing products to enhance quality and reduce costs; and complete product registration and declaration dossiers according to regulations.

- Continue to effectively manage, preserve, and evaluate the quality of microbial strains and cell lines used in research, production, and vaccine testing. Improve standards and procedures for strain management to ensure a stable source of strains to meet production requirements.

- Conduct post-vaccination efficacy testing to support disease diagnosis for customers; Conduct trial production of new products, while simultaneously strengthening professional training and technical support during the product's market deployment.

3.3. Production and Quality Management

- The company continues to organize, arrange, and streamline production processes to enhance production capacity, efficiently utilize resources, and optimize costs. Simultaneously, it promotes technical improvements, refines technological processes, and improves the uniformity of the production system, contributing to improved operational efficiency.

- Production activities during the year were generally stable, promptly meeting market demands. Many new products, especially in the fields of veterinary pharmaceuticals, feed supplements, and environmental treatment products, were positively received by the market, contributing to increased sales and market share expansion for the company.

- Quality management and control continued to be strengthened, ensuring strict control from raw materials to finished products, thereby contributing to reducing error rates and losses in production. Simultaneously, the company proactively reviewed, evaluated, and introduced several new raw materials and packaging materials that are reasonably priced while maintaining quality, helping to reduce production costs and enhance proactive control over the supply chain.

- Product management continued to be actively implemented, with the extension of circulation for many existing products, successful registration of new products, and continued completion of documentation for products awaiting licensing according to regulations.

- The company strictly adhered to regulations on occupational safety, fire prevention, and environmental protection; no workplace accidents occurred during the year, ensuring safety throughout the company's operations.

3.4. Business Operations and Market Development

- In response to market fluctuations, the Company proactively adjusted its 2025 business plan to suit the actual situation. Thanks to the efforts of the entire business system, revenue from farm customers, the Company, and dealers maintained its growth momentum, contributing to the stability of the Company's business operations.

- In 2025, several key products continued to contribute positively to revenue. In particular, the African Swine Fever vaccine (NAVET-ASFVAC) continued to be researched and improved, recording good growth compared to the previous year; the product is increasingly attracting the attention of many livestock corporations and being put into use. In addition, many new products, especially in the aquaculture sector, have been well received by the market and brought significant revenue to the Company.

- The company has also gradually developed modern sales methods, especially digital platforms and e-commerce channels, and has initially achieved positive results. This distribution channel has great potential and needs continued investment and promotion in the future to keep up with modern business trends and expand customer reach.

- Besides the achievements, the company's business still faces many difficulties and challenges. The disease situation in livestock farming is complex, input costs are increasing, while the market is becoming increasingly competitive as many domestic and foreign businesses invest in GMP-standard factories and strongly participate in the fields of vaccines, veterinary pharmaceuticals, and aquatic pharmaceuticals.

- In addition, increasingly strict regulations on environmental protection in livestock farming, along with disease outbreaks, natural disasters, and industry fluctuations, have made many customers more cautious in investing in livestock development. At the same time, the policy of promoting social participation in vaccination and disease prevention in many localities has reduced the budget allocated for purchasing vaccines and disinfectants, thereby having a certain impact on the company's business operations.

3.5. Financial Management and Resource Management

- Although the Company faced some difficulties in cash flow in 2025, the overall financial situation remained stable. The Company fully fulfilled its obligations to the state budget and did not incur any outstanding debts. Financial reports were prepared and audited in accordance with regulations and submitted to state management agencies on time.

- Financial management continued to be carried out in a strict, economical, and efficient manner. The Company proactively balanced capital sources to support production and business activities, while strengthening cost control and improving capital utilization efficiency, contributing to ensuring the Company's stable operation and sustainable development.

PART II. PLAN FOR 2026

1. Market Forecast

- The global economy continues to face numerous challenges due to prolonged political instability, particularly conflicts in several major regions. The trend of globalization shows signs of slowing down, international trade growth is slow, affecting consumer demand and investment activities globally. In addition, rising fuel prices and transportation costs are leading to increased prices of many input materials, adding further pressure on business operations.

- Domestically, the economy is recovering at a slow pace, market purchasing power is decreasing while input costs and competitive pressure remain high.

- For the livestock and veterinary industry, the forecast indicates continued difficulties and challenges in the coming period. At the same time, increasingly stringent regulations on biosafety and environmental protection in livestock farming, along with the trend towards large-scale, professional farming models, are placing increasingly high demands on businesses in the industry.

Unit: VND/year

No.	Full name	Position	Remuneration
1	Mr. Dinh Tien Cuong	Head of the SB	72.000.000
2	Mrs. Le Tran Thanh Tram	Member of the SB	36.000.000

Total expenses in 2025			144,000,000

(Source: From the audited financial report for 2025)

2. MONITORING RESULTS OF THE COMPANY'S OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL STATUS

2.1 Results of the Company's Operations:

Unit: Billion VN Dong

No.	Indicator	Plan 2025	Actual Performance 2025	Completion Rate (%)
1	Total revenue	350	324,3	92,66%
2	Profit before tax	18	18,2	101,11%

(Source: From the audited financial report for 2025)

- Overall, the economic situation in 2025 remains challenging in general, and particularly for the company's production and business activities. Total revenue reached 324.3 billion VND, achieving 92.66% of the plan. Although the revenue target was not met, pre-tax profit exceeded the plan at 18.2 billion VND (the plan was 18 billion VND), reaching 101.11%. This demonstrates that the company has managed, reduced costs, utilized capital, and conducted business effectively.

- In 2025, the company will not pay dividends due to carrying forward losses from the previous year (2024) of -24.079 billion VND. Profit in 2025 is 18.2 billion VND, therefore the accumulated loss at the end of 2025 is -5.8 billion VND.

- Compared to 2024, business management expenses increased by 3.11 billion VND, equivalent to a 5.8% increase, mainly due to increased external costs such as electricity, water, and provisions for doubtful receivables. Financial operating expenses increased by 4.25 billion VND, mainly due to interest expenses, exchange rate losses, and payment discounts for customers.

2.2 Financial situation of the Company

- The company's total assets are VND 781.7 billion, a decrease of VND 50.2 billion, equivalent to a 6% reduction compared to the beginning of 2025, mainly due to the accumulated depreciation of tangible fixed assets and a decrease in inventory.

- Regarding capital sources: the capital structure also shifted slightly, with liabilities decreasing by VND 68.4 billion, equivalent to a 12.8% decrease, and equity increasing by VND 18.2 billion, equivalent to a 6.5% increase, mainly due to increased profits.

- Regarding net cash flow from business operations: cash flow from business operations was negative VND 17.2 billion, indicating that the company faced many difficulties in product sales, reduced profits, increased accounts payable and interest expenses, and other business operating costs. These factors contributed to the company's capital turnover, resulting in negative cash flow from business operations.

- In 2025, the company had to offset its operating cash flow by borrowing short-term funds to supplement working capital. The total amount raised during the year was 183 billion VND, with outstanding debt as of December 31, 2025, at 94.5 billion VND.

- The return on assets (ROA) was 2.3%, and the return on equity (ROE) was 11%. These indicators showed a slight increase compared to the previous year, demonstrating effective business operations.

- The executive activities complied with laws, the Company Charter, resolutions of the GMS, and decisions of the BOD, particularly in the areas of business planning, accounting, auditing practices, investment projects, and employee policies.
